Bravida appoints new Head of Division Denmark

Bravida appoints Johnny Hey Jensen, previous regional manager for Danish region North, as new Head of Division Denmark. He will be a part of Bravida's Group Management and will take over the position immediately.

Johnny Hey Jensen has worked as regional manager in Bravida since 2007. He has built a strong organisation within both installation and service, with a large number of significant projects and service agreements.

– Johnny has successfully developed both installation and service operations in Bravida. I am convinced that he, as Head of Division, will continue the good development of Bravida Denmark, says Mattias Johansson, CEO and Group President, Bravida.

Former Head of Division, Bent Andersen, leaves his position because of a long absence due to a serious disease.

– Bent has been a key person in the development of Bravida Denmark. Under his strong leadership, the division has positioned itself as one of the leading and most profitable players in the Danish installation and servicemarket. He has also been an important support for me and for Bravida's development in the Nordics, says Mattias Johansson.
